ALBION.. MAYO.. 1.1..NORTON 360.. A: Here is one of the first decoys: For the record, the most consistent trend of malware authors is to release free versions of their stuff, then release the cracked/paid versions. They've done it with Web Hosts, Torrent Sites, and Instant-messaging software. You can't really argue that you should pay more for software, when that software is free in public. It's the same in business. If a bar cost $10 for a pitcher of beer, but you could buy it for a dollar when you get up to leave the bar, should you pay $10 or $1? ... 5) Download the app, and click the "Run" button. Cracked software is usually packed with its own program that installs itself if you download it from another website. I found this when I downloaded a copy of Fortran compiler for Windows and it filled my disk with these files. Here are 2 more decoys that I found in the same zip package: There are many free programs on the Web, but there are many people that allow you to pay an administration fee to get the software, for just a quick download. If you've ever dealt with a really, really bad Web host that wants to host your site, you'll know the feeling we get when we find that we've paid for a bunch of useless junk. The program has been downloaded so fast that it wants to begin using the program before it even gets to the installation or login screens. Or use the following resources to install the cracked software: EDIT: Here is a link to the cd-r version of this software. A: What
